case with the quite extensive and satisfactory list of words presented in the Mission Scientifique du Cap Horn.

The authors of the latter point out the important fact that of the 200 Yahgan (Teknika) words collected by Fitzroy in 1830-32, 120 are wholly erroneous, most of them belonging to the Alikuluf tongue.

In the report of Commander Giacomo Bove (Patagonia, Terra del Fuoco, Mari Australi, Parte i, Genova, 1883), there is a Yahgan vocabulary of 164 words. It also was obtained through the instrumentality of Mr. Brydges, and is satisfactorily accurate.

THE HONGOTE VOCABULARIES.

In my previous communication on Fuegian dialects, I quoted two short vocabularies from a MS. in the British Museum said to be from the "Hongote" language, and which, from the paper forming a part of a record relating to Patagonia, I took to be dialects of that region.

This is the first opportunity I have to correct this error. Dr. Franz Boas has pointed out to me that one vocabulary is clearly Salish, and must have been collected in Fuca strait on the northwest coast. He thinks it may be the Songish dialect, a name which remotely resembles "Hongote." How it came to form a part of a mass of documents relating with this exception wholly to South America, I cannot explain. The other he considers Tlinkit. Under such circumstances and in view of the hundreds of languages on the continent, it is easy to see how such a mistake could occur. I am glad to be able to correct it promptly.
